ATLANTA 2013

YOU WILL BE STAYING AT THE OMNI HOTEL AT CNN CENTER.

When you arrive:

Be prepared to provide a credit card or pay a cash deposit for incidentals (phone calls, room service, recreational activities, etc.). It is not recommended to provide a debit or check card for this purpose.

When you check out of the hotel:

Clear your hotel account of all incidental charges. Specific instructions for handling your luggage and departure times from the hotel to the airport will be included in your arrival packet.

Smokers:

Smoking is not allowed inside any Triple Crown/Platinum Star event.

Please remember your Triple Crown/Platinum Star trip includes:

- Round-trip airfare from the airport nearest your home to the Atlanta airport for you and a guest
- Aflac will issue airline tickets for July 25-28.
- Skycap tips at the Atlanta airport
- Your hotel bellman tips
- One hotel room and tax (arriving on July 25 and departure on July 28)
- All meals, entertainment, and tours listed on the agenda (unless otherwise noted)
- Transportation to and from events described in the agenda
- Baggage reimbursement for the first piece of checked luggage per person (See restrictions on page 9.)
- If you decide to drive, a maximum reimbursement of 800 miles round trip will be reimbursed. (See form on page 8.)
- Aflac will pay for overnight parking at the hotel.

TRIP DATES: JULY 25-28, 2013

ATLANTA 2013

You will be responsible for:

- Additional hotel room, if required for your guest
- Any extra airline charges for your guest
- Activities not listed on the agenda that you plan for yourself (recreational activities, shopping or sightseeing if you chose the On My Own activity, etc.)
- Airport parking, meals not listed on the agenda, and bar tabs
- Souvenirs or other personal purchases
- Luggage fees for second piece per person or any overweight or oversized bags
- Incidental charges to your room such as phone calls, room service, mini bar, in-room movies, etc.
- Ground transportation to and from the hotel, if you choose to arrive or depart outside the normal Triple Crown dates of July 25 or July 28.

Are There Any Restrictions on Whom I Can Bring as My Guest?

The guest of a qualifier must be at least 18 years old. A guest cannot be a licensed associate with Aflac, unless he or she is an immediate family member (spouse, parent, brother, sister, or adult child). Completed questionnaires are reviewed by Contest Administration to approve the eligibility of each guest, and their decision is final. No infants, toddlers, or children are allowed on any Aflac trips.

Where Will I Stay?

Aflac has secured lodging at The Omni Hotel at CNN Center. If you extend your trip to arrive before July 25 or depart Atlanta after July 28, you will be responsible for making reservations, and paying, directly with the hotel of your choice.

How Will this Trip Affect My Taxes?

Aflac is required by law to include some costs associated with Triple Crown on your Form 1099 as compensation. These costs include all expenses related to your spouse or guest (airfare, meals, entertainment, etc.) and any prizes or awards received by the qualifier. Please consult your personal tax advisor about deducting any of these expenses on your personal income tax return.

(See Honor Clubs Guidelines.)

HONOR CLUBS GUIDELINES

ATLANTA 2013

- Honor Clubs awards are for qualifiers only. Under no circumstances is a substitute allowed or transferable.
- If a person qualifies for a contest in which a trip is the award and is terminated as an Aflac or Aflac New York associate before the trip, he or she will not be entitled to attend the trip or receive any other compensation.
- Qualifiers to the annual Aflac Convention and President's Club are allowed to invite spouses or eligible guests to accompany them on the trip. However, guests may not be included on all Honor Clubs trips. If guests are included, this information is specifically stated in the brochure covering that Honor Club trip.
- Trip guests cannot be members of the Aflac or Aflac New York field force or employees at Aflac Worldwide Headquarters, the Aflac New York Home office, or Aflac Group, unless he or she is an immediate family member. For purposes of guest eligibility, a family member is defined as a qualifier's mother, father, sister, brother, or adult child. If an additional sleeping room is needed, the qualifier is required to pay for the cost of the room. Each qualifier is entitled to bring one eligible guest. No guest under the age of 18 (including infants) is allowed.
- Qualifiers who fail to show up for the trip and do not cancel their participation in advance of the trip will have the entire value of the trip added to their 1099.
- If a qualifier chooses to alter travel arrangements made by Aflac, he or she is fully responsible for his or her own arrangements. Aflac's Travel, Meetings, and Incentives departments books airline reservations for the qualifier according to the arrival and departure dates for the event. After qualifiers receive their airline tickets, they may deal directly with the airline reservation/ticketing office to alter travel plans as they desire. Qualifiers are responsible for any additional fees imposed by the airline to change travel dates or to update airline tickets.
- If a qualifier chooses to drive to any incentive trip, the maximum mileage reimbursement is limited to 400 miles each way and is reimbursed at the current allowable IRS rate.
- Contest related-trips are intended to honor, educate, and entertain our best producers. To make the experience as pleasant and rewarding as possible for everyone, anyone engaging in disorderly or unruly conduct at any time during a company-sponsored Honor Club trip may, at Aflac's sole discretion, be excluded from the remaining events and activities and be asked to leave.

ATLANTA 2013

Aflac's maximum reimbursement is 400 miles each way at the current allowable IRS rate or the amount Aflac would have paid for your airline ticket, whichever is less.
